Rail Reinvention in Your Backyard

by Valli Hoski, Editor, NRHS News

As we move into the 2020s, there is a surprising mix of optimistic growth along with the traditional gloom of expected cutbacks along the rails. The resurgence and reopening of historical rail lines and structures, along with expanded urban transit offer a hopeful contrast to shuttering of coal operations and lines.

Restoration of vintage railroad properties and continued growth in new urban systems are encouraging trends. The revitalization of city centers and urban living go hand in hand with increased demand for in-town transit options. Back in my home town of Detroit, the redevelopment of the Michigan Central train station (just west of downtown Detroit) demonstrates the value of restoration and reuse of legacy rail structures. Often hidden jewels, careful redevelopment of historical rail stations brings new life into the historical soul of an urban community.

The reemergence of the East Broad Top Railroad is a classic case study of rail success, decline and reinvention. With the support of a new foundation, EBT may be a new case study on how preservation and legacy industrial operations collaboration can bring mutual benefits and mutual successes.

In your community, neighborhood and state look for small or large renovation of urban railroad properties or railroad projects. Whether a fresh coat of paint on a long-retired commuter station, a new {or refurbished} train watching park, or new talk of exploring or expanding mass transit options, please share these local developments with the NRHS community. Your local news briefs, photographs with captions, press releases about transit development, preservation or restoration of properties – please share these with the NRHS News.

Chapter Meeting Minutes, February, 2020

The February 2020 meeting of the North Texas Chapter of the NRHS meeting was held on Tuesday, February 11, at the Spring Creek BBQ in Grapevine, TX. There were 13 attendees.

President Wayne Smith called the meeting to order at 7:45 PM. He brought along the current issue of Trains Magazine, which featured an article on the 50th birthday of the Burlington Northern. He also reminded those who haven't paid their dues to do so soon.

Announcements:

VP Jon Shea: Jon passed out for review handouts about UP history, DRGW history, and the Georgetown Loop. Jon was unable to get Steve Goen to speak at the DeGoyler library in March. He is arranging for Steve to speak at the library in May.

Jon has been having difficulties securing meeting places for the Chapter meetings. He has to reschedule some meetings at the Spring Creek BBQ because of scheduling conflicts (such as the February meeting, delayed one week). The Sokol Hall is available only in January and the summer months. He is soliciting recommendations for other meeting sites, so if anyone has any recommendations, please let him know.

Secretary Jerry Nunn: Jerry provided a summary of recent happenings at the Amtrak Ft. Worth station.

President Wayne Smith: There will be a Board Meeting at the Spring Creek BBQ in Lewisville, TX on Tuesday, February 18 to discuss the future of the Chapter's signature "24 Hours at Saginaw" event.

VP Skip Waters: There is nothing new to report regarding the "24 Hours" event. The Chapter still does not know the full situation at the Saginaw Depot, nor how to proceed from here. The scheduled Board Meeting will hopefully help us figure things out.

Planning for the National Convention is being completed. Trips available should be published within the next two weeks. The official hotel is at the Knotts Berry Farm. There will be some perks to guests who book their stay at the hotel. Refer to the NRHS website for details.

There will be a presentation on the "Crash at Crush" at the Wayborn Museum on the Baylor University campus in Waco, TX. The presentation will take place on Thursday, February 20 from 6 PM - 8 PM. Skip is organizing a convoy to Waco for those interested in attending. The convoy will meet at 4:30 PM at the TA (TravelCenters of America) fuel station and restaurant, 160 Texas Highway 77, Hillsboro, TX (I-35, Exit 370). Skip says the facility has a railroad theme to it; therefore, he recommends that the participants arrive early to view the murals, photos, and artifacts. Contact Skip if you have any questions.

Member Sam Metzgar and companion brought models of steam engine GVRR 2248 for the attendees to view.

The program for the evening was the video “Battle Up Sherman Hill”. Due to the limited remaining time for the meeting, the video had to be stopped after about 30 minutes.

The meeting adjourned at 9:05 PM. Jerry M. Nunn, Secretary, North Texas Chapter NRHS
